Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT)

What is Fidelity EFT?

Fidelity EFT is a convenient service that enables you to take your periodic payment distributions from your Fidelity retirement account and have your money electronically transferred to your bank account.

What are the benefits of EFT?

When you use Fidelity EFT there is less paperwork, fewer trips to the bank and post office, no inconvenience due to mail delays, and increase safety. With EFT, there are no checks to be lost or stolen.

How does EFT work?

Automated Clearing House (ACH) regulations require that your bank be notified 30 days prior to the receipt of funds; therefore, please allow up to 60 days for EFT to become activated and for payments to be made to your bank account.

If the day of distribution falls on a weekend or holiday, then the distribution will be processed on the prior business day. If the prenote* has not cleared, the distribution will be sent via check to the address on file when the first systematic withdrawal payment (swp) is due.

Passbook Savings Accounts and Foreign Bank Accounts are not eligible for EFT. Also, please note that EFTs are only available on periodic payment distributions.

*A prenote is the communication between financial institutions to verify the banking information. The prenote process normally takes 10 calendar days.

How do I add EFT to my retirement account?

To add EFT, please complete this application and return it with a completed Fidelity Distribution Form.

If you need assistance completing this form, please call Fidelity Investments at 800-343-0860. Representatives are available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to midnight, ET.
